

I strongly endorse RM10352. To be consistent with all the other Amateur Radio frequency allotments, the 160 meter band should have officially defined areas for voice vs CW-digital modes. This is highly beneficial both to the Radio Amateur and the FCC in the reduction-elimination of complaints from the two non-compatible transmission modes.